CREATING TOMORROW

Before I brought Spræe in I had no idea how much grime was present in my facility or just how clean it could be.

Specialised cleaning specialists.

Spræe provides specialised cleaning for a range niche clients. We provide focused, experienced and technically-driven services for:

- Commercial kitchens and food manufacturing facilities.
- Industrial sweeping and floor scrubbing that utilises state of the art industrial scrubbers and sweepers capable of handling jobs from a small 500m² facility to a 20,000m² warehouse.
- Cleaning services for confined spaces and tunnels with high pressure water to remove scum build-up.

All our services remove, grease, grim, and residue build up, ensuring that a premises' cleanliness meets with HACCP Standards.

Cleanliness and hygiene within food-handling, confined areas and other specialised zones is essential to the health of customers and staff alike. And a professional service that ensures correct and thorough cleaning is essential. Our specialised services have been tailored to remove both visible and invisible contaminants, germs, dirt and grease.

Recently, Spræe has undertaken extremely difficult cleaning projects that have involved cleaning restoration of confined underground tunnel spaces spreading almost 10km, acidic removal of industrial chemical bathing pools and top to bottom restoration cleaning of food redundant manufacturing facilities. Each of the projects involved a high level of skill, knowledge and expertise to ensure the tunnels and redundant area of the food manufacturing facility could be re-instated, without major capital works. The chemical bathing pools and surrounding areas were cleaned by removing acidic build-up, resulting in minimal down time for our client and near zero capital expenditure.

These are only the most recent examples, however over the years we have encountered some almost impossible cleaning projects and on every occasion we have always come up with the goods.
