CREATING TOMORROW

Emergencies do not have to become disasters.

Spree provides 24-hour emergency services and disaster recovery for many types of facilities and situations. Whether a client faces a relatively minor accident or an act of God, Spree has the flexibility, systems, equipment and staff ready to make sure all calls are handled quickly and professionally.

In the critical times after accidents, a well-trained, organised and equipped team can save a company thousands in repairs to equipment, replacement of supplies or structural damage.

Our commitment to safety also extends to our emergency and rapid deployment services. Clients utilising us can be sure that not only will clean ups be done quickly but they will be done safely by staff who have adequate training to handle the situations they are placed in.

Within one hour of receiving a call, a team specialising in emergency cleans will be on its way to a facility - fully equipped and trained to use our industrial carpet steam cleaners, dryers and extraction machines.
